Report of the Council for the year ending July, 1945

THE COUNCIL has pleasure in presenting the 34th Annual Report. The Council has met nine times, and there have been eleven fixtures, at which attendances have been extremely good. Indeed, on several occasions, we have been crowded out, and part of the audience sat on the stairs. The problem of seating accommodation is one which is preoccupying the Council.

In addition to the recitals of chamber music—of which the programmes have been very varied—a series of illustrated talks by experts on style in the interpretation of music of different composers or periods has been inaugurated. The first of these was by Mme. Adelina de Lara on "The Interpretation of Schumann's Music as Mme. Schumann taught it," the second by Helen Henschel on "Brahms," and the third by Carl Dolmetsch, assisted by Joseph Saxby, on "The Interpretation of the Music of the 17th and 18th Centuries." These illustrated talks are followed by tea and discussion at the Sesame Club, and members are able to ask questions.

We have to thank Mrs. Cecil Harcourt for a delightful party in the summer, at which she and Mr. Gethyn Wykeham-George gave us a recital. This was an appropriate peace celebration for the Society.

The number of outside concerts given at the Croydon Y.M.C.A. and elsewhere during the year was 46, and 96 artists have been given engagements. It is hoped that these outside activities will continue in a new form in the post-war period. In this way, the Society can make a useful contribution to the musical life and education of the country, and also give fresh opportunities to its members. The present position of the Artists' Fund, which helps to finance these outside concerts, and also the Fixtures, is sufficiently discussed in the circular letter recently sent to all members.

Fifty-nine new Members and Associates have been elected during the year, the total membership in July, 1945, being 498. Visitors brought to our concerts speak warmly of their high standard, and it should be remembered that we welcome not only professional musicians as performing members, but also amateurs as non-performing members, while men may join as Associates. Regarded as a concert club, the S.W.M. offers first-class concerts for a very low subscription.

As we look back over five and a half years of war, during which the activities of S.W.M. have never been suspended, we have cause for deep thankfulness that our premises, our piano and our libraries have come through unscathed. We have also cause for pride as well as thankfulness when we think of the steadfastness, courage and good humour with which concerts have been carried through, in spite of frequent obbligato accompaniments of sirens and explosions of various kinds. Through the first black-out winter, through the menacing summer of 1940, through the blitz, through attacks by flying-bombs and rockets, the S.W.M. went on making its plans, and carrying them out. The end of the war, indeed, finds the Society in a stronger position than it was six years ago, both as regards membership and influence in the musical profession, and we have every reason to hope for even greater developments in the future.

The Council records with regret the deaths of Miss Theresa Beney, for many years a member, and of Mr. Herbert Bedford, whose wife, Mme. Liza Lehmann, was our first President in 1911.

COMPOSERS' COMMITTEE

The Committee have to record with regret that, owing to insuperable mishaps of the kind that programme makers can appreciate only too well, it has not been possible to present a number of members' works which had been included for performance in the Council's plans. In view of these delays, and also of the continued difficulty of conditions for both composers and the adjudicators, it was deemed advisable not to invite the sending in of new works this year.

LIBRARY COMMITTEE'S REPORT

The Committee have again to record with gratitude gifts of money, music and books from members and friends, also a generous donation of £5 5*s*. 0*d*. from the Cobbett Library Fund. This has placed the Library in a better financial position, with a satisfactory balance, and with the £5 now allotted to it annually by the Council, many of the difficulties of keeping up to date will be solved. A few miniature scores have been bought, and the money in hand will provide new boxes, folders, and other replacements when these are again available. Members of the Committee have met several times during the past year to work at the reorganization of the Library. There will be some music for sale when this revision has been completed.
